AUSTRALIAN RESEARCH COUNCIL

Section 1: Agency overview and resources

1.1 STRATEGIC DIRECTION STATEMENT

The Australian Research Council (ARC) is a statutory authority within the portfolio. Its mission is to deliver policy and programs that advance Australian research and innovation globally and benefit the community. The mission aligns with the ARC outcome statement, which is: 'Growth of knowledge and innovation through managing research funding schemes, measuring research excellence and providing advice.'

The ARC provides advice to the Government on research matters and manages the National Competitive Grants Program (NCGP), a significant component of Australia's investment in research and development. Through the NCGP, the ARC supports the highest-quality fundamental and applied research and research training. Funding is allocated through national competition across all research disciplines.

The ARC is responsible for the Excellence in Research for Australia (ERA) evaluations. ERA assesses research quality within Australia's higher education research institutions using a combination of indicators and expert review by committees comprising experienced, internationally recognised experts. ERA details areas within disciplines at Australian institutions that are internationally competitive and points to emerging research areas where there are opportunities for development and further investment. The effective and comprehensive evaluation of Australia's research effort is crucial to the understanding of the national research landscape.

In 2012-13 priorities for the ARC will include:

- implementation of the Industrial Transformation Research Program, under which the Government will invest $236 million in quality research and development partnerships to transform Australian industries. The Program comprises Industrial Transformation Research Hubs and Industrial Transformation Training Centres
- establishment of a multi-disciplinary Science of Learning Centre under the Special Research Initiatives scheme
- finalisation of the selection round for an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Researchers' Network under the Special Research Initiatives scheme
- administration of funding for the Special Research Initiative in Synchrotron Science

• implementation of the ERA 2012 evaluations. This includes collection of data from institutions, evaluations of research disciplines conducted by Research Evaluation Committees, and publication of the outcomes of the evaluations in the ERA 2012 National Report.

In working to achieve its outcome, the ARC will continue to engage with its stakeholders across the national and international innovation systems. The ARC will also participate in the whole-of-government policy dialogue in areas relevant to research matters such as higher education, health and science communication.

1.2 AGENCY RESOURCE STATEMENT

Table 1.1 shows the total resources from all sources. The table summarises how resources will be applied by outcome and by administered and departmental classification.

Section 2: Outcomes and planned performance

2.1 OUTCOMES AND PERFORMANCE INFORMATION

Government outcomes are the intended results, impacts or consequences of actions by the Government on the Australian community. Commonwealth programs are the primary vehicle by which government agencies achieve the intended results of their outcome statements. Agencies are required to identify the programs which contribute to Government outcomes over the Budget and forward years.

Each outcome is described below together with its related programs, specifying the performance indicators and targets used to assess and monitor the performance of Australian Research Council in achieving Government outcomes.

Outcome 1: Growth of knowledge and innovation through managing research funding schemes, measuring research excellence and providing advice.

Outcome 1 Strategy

The ARC will pursue the results outlined in its outcome (that is, growth of knowledge and innovation in Australia) by:

- supporting excellence in research and building Australia's research capacity through administration of the National Competitive Grants Program
- measuring research excellence at Australia's universities by conducting research evaluation
- advancing Australian research and innovation by providing strategic policy advice to Government.

The National Competitive Grants Program (NCGP) supports two main streams of research funding—Discovery and Linkage (Program 1.1 and Program 1.2). Through Discovery, funding is available for investigator-initiated research projects and research fellowships and awards. Through Linkage, funding is available for research projects, infrastructure, hubs and centres that foster collaboration among researchers and research teams in Australia and internationally, and with industry and other end-users of research. Together, the ARC funding schemes: support the generation of new ideas, knowledge and breakthrough discoveries; provide incentives for researchers to partner with business, the public sector and community organisations; build the scale and focus of research in areas of national priority; and support the development of highly trained personnel.

The ARC evaluates the excellence of research undertaken in Australia's universities. Excellence in Research for Australia (ERA) evaluates research quality using a combination of indicators and expert review by committees comprising experienced, internationally recognised experts. It identifies excellence across the full spectrum of research activities and compares Australia's university research effort against international benchmarks.

The ARC, jointly with the National Health and Medical Research Council, provides ongoing support for the Australian Research Integrity Committee (ARIC). The primary role of ARIC is to provide assurance that institutions take—and are seen to take—appropriate action on serious allegations of research misconduct.

Contributions to Outcome 1

Program 1.1: Discovery—research and research training

Program 1.1 objective

The Discovery Program is aimed at supporting the growth of Australia's research capacity, resulting in the development of new technologies, products and ideas, the creation of jobs, economic growth and an enhanced quality of life in Australia. Specifically the Discovery Program aims to:

- support excellent fundamental research by individuals and teams
- support the development of young researchers as well as the ongoing careers of individuals and research teams
- provide incentives for researchers to build the scale of their work, develop teams and support the growth of networks of research (both nationally and internationally)
- enhance the scale and focus of research in areas of national priority.

The main schemes of the Discovery Program are: Australian Laureate Fellowships, Discovery Early Career Researcher Award, Discovery Indigenous, Discovery Projects, Future Fellowships and Super Science Fellowships.

Program 1.1 expenses

Administered and departmental funding for the Discovery Program decreases over the forward estimates due to the winding-down of the Future Fellowships scheme and the Super Science Fellowships scheme.

Program 1.1 Deliverables

Through the Discovery Program, the ARC delivers funding to individual research projects and research fellowships and awards through a range of schemes (listed under the program objectives above). Funding is awarded to administering organisations on the basis of competitive peer review processes involving Australian and international experts. The ARC also provides policy advice on matters related to research and research training, and undertakes communications activities to promote the benefits of research.

Specific deliverables include:

- number of grants awarded

Program 1.2: Linkage—cross-sector research partnerships

Program 1.2 objective

The Linkage Program is aimed at improving research outcomes and the use of research outcomes by strengthening links within Australia's innovation system and with innovation systems internationally. Specifically, the Linkage Program aims to:

- encourage partnerships between university-based researchers and end-user organisations (including business, industry, government and community organisations, and publicly funded research agencies)
- foster opportunities for postgraduate and postdoctoral researchers to pursue research in collaboration with organisations outside the higher education sector
- support investment in strategic national research infrastructure and access to major international research facilities
- encourage the growth of clusters of research and research training as platforms for innovation through funding research centres and hubs.

By supporting the development of partnerships, the Linkage Program encourages the exchange and transfer of skills, knowledge and ideas as a basis for securing commercial and other benefits of research.

The main schemes of the Linkage Program are: ARC Centres of Excellence; Cofunded Centres of Excellence; Industrial Transformation Research Hubs; Industrial Transformation Training Centres; Linkage Infrastructure, Equipment and Facilities; Linkage Projects and Special Research Initiatives.

Program 1.2 expenses

Increased funding for the Linkage Program over the forward estimates is a result of additional funding for new research grants in bionic vision science and technology, and an extension of funding for the National Information and Communication Technology Centre of Excellence.

Program 1.2 Deliverables

Through the Linkage Program, the ARC delivers funding for individual research projects and research hubs and centres via a range of schemes (listed under Program objective above). Funding is awarded to administering organisations on the basis of competitive peer review processes involving Australian and international experts. The ARC also provides policy advice on matters related to research collaboration and undertakes communications activities to promote the benefits of collaborative research.

Specific deliverables include:

- number of grants awarded
- number of researchers supported (investigators named in funding proposals)

- ARC-supported research contributes significantly to high quality research training
- ARC-supported research makes a significant contribution to research activity and capability in areas of national need
- Policy advice enhances Australia's capacity and excellence in research

As noted under the Discovery Program, there are limitations to the ways in which the effectiveness of the Linkage Program in meeting its objectives can be measured because the contribution of excellent research to growth and innovation can only be measured in the long term

Program 1.3: Excellence in Research for Australia

Program 1.3 objective

The ERA initiative aims at improving research outcomes by identifying universities and disciplines that are internationally competitive and highlighting areas where there are opportunities for further development and investment.

Specifically, the ERA initiative aims to:

- Administer an evaluation framework that gives Government, industry, business and the wider community assurance of the excellence of research conducted in Australia's higher education institutions
- Provide a national overview of areas of research strength and areas where there may be opportunity for development
- Allow for comparisons of Australia's research nationally and internationally for all disciplines offered in Australian higher education institutions
- Allow for comparisons of Australia's research effort over time.

Program 1.3 expenses

Administered and departmental expenses reflect the funding provided in the 2009-10 Budget to develop and implement ERA.

Program 1.3 Deliverables

Through the ERA initiative, the ARC delivers regular evaluations of the excellence of research undertaken in Australia's universities. Quality is evaluated using a combination of indicators and expert review by committees comprising experienced, internationally recognised experts.

Specific deliverables include implementation of the ERA 2012 evaluations. This includes collection of data from institutions, evaluations of research disciplines conducted by Research Evaluation Committees, and publication of the outcomes of the evaluations in the ERA 2012 National Report.

This will be the second full round of ERA, and will allow for comparison of Australia's research effort over time.

The ARC also provides ongoing policy advice on broader research matters related to the measurement of research quality.

Program 1.3 Key Performance Indicators

- Contribution to best practice evaluation of Australia's research investment in universities
- Achievement of milestone for delivery of ERA 2012
- Successful outreach initiatives that further inform the sector and other key stakeholders of overarching ERA policy and implementation

Section 3: Explanatory tables and budgeted financial statements

Section 3 presents explanatory tables and budgeted financial statements which provide a comprehensive snapshot of agency finances for the 2012-13 budget year. It explains how budget plans are incorporated into the financial statements and provides further details of the reconciliation between appropriations and program expenses, movements in administered funds, special accounts and government Indigenous expenditure.

3.1 EXPLANATORY TABLES

3.1.1 Movement of administered funds between years

Administered funds can be provided for a specified period, for example under annual Appropriation Acts. Funds not used in the specified period with the agreement of the Finance Minister may be moved to a future year. Table 3.1.1 shows the movement of administered funds approved between years.

¹Figures displayed as a negative (-) represent a decrease in funds and a positive reflect an increase in funds.

The movement of $0.6 million administered funds from 2011-12 to 2012-13 and $2.3 million of future administered funds from 2013-14 to 2012-13 will ensure that the ERA election commitment is met. The movement of funds is required to provide appropriate support and remuneration for the committee members associated with ERA evaluation process.

3.1.2 Special Accounts

Special Accounts provide a means to set aside and record amounts used for specified purposes. Special Accounts can be created by a Finance Minister's Determination under the FMA Act or under separate enabling legislation. Table 3.1.2 shows the expected additions (receipts) and reductions (payments) for each account used by the ARC.

3.2.4 Notes to the financial statements

The ARC budget statements have been prepared on an accrual accounting basis, having regard to the Statement of Accounting Concepts, and in accordance with the Finance Ministers Orders and the Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board (AASB).

Departmental assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses are those items that are controlled by the ARC that are used by the ARC in producing its outputs and include computer, plant and equipment used in providing goods and services; liabilities for employee entitlements; revenue from appropriations; and employee, supplier and depreciation expenses incurred in providing agency outputs.

Administered items are those that the ARC does not control and which are subject to prescriptive rules or conditions established by legislation or Australian Government policy, in order to achieve Australian Government outcomes. The ARC administers a number of grant schemes. Grant liabilities are recognised to the extent that the grant eligibility criteria or reporting requirements have been satisfied and is recorded when the Government enters into an agreement to make these grants but the services have not been performed or criteria satisfied
