AUSTRALIAN RESEARCH COUNCIL

Section 1: Overview

The Australian Research Council (ARC) was established under the Australian Research Council Act 2001 on 1 July 2001.

The mission of the ARC is to:

“Advance Australia’s research excellence to be globally competitive and deliver benefits to the community”

The role of the ARC is to advise the Government on research funding and policy and, through its management of the National Competitive Grants Program, to promote the conduct of research and research training that is of the highest quality for the benefit of the Australian community.

The ARC has one outcome and one output group as indicated in Table 1.1 below.

Table 1.1: Agency outcomes and output groups

Outcome	Description	Output groups
Outcome 1 Australian research that advances the global knowledge and skills base leading to economic, social, cultural and environmental benefits for the Australian community.	The Australian Government’s investment in research and research training that is administered by the ARC supports the Government’s commitment to three key elements of the process of innovation: strengthening Australia’s ability to generate ideas and undertake research; accelerating the commercial application of these ideas; and developing and retaining Australian skills. 2.1 APPROPRIATIONS AND OTHER RESOURCES

Table 2.1 shows the total resources from all origins for 2006-07, including appropriations. The table summarises how resources will be applied by outcome, administered and departmental classification. The table does not include resources received free of charge as identified in Table 2.3 as they are not cash receipts.

The total appropriations and other resources (receipts only) for the ARC in the 2006-07 Budget is $585.224 million.

¹ This table has been redesigned to correspond with Budget Paper No. 4 'Agency Resourcing'. It now includes (where appropriate) administered revenue from other sources.

² Under the appropriation structure, Bill No. 2 includes Specific Purpose Payments (SPPs), new agency Outcomes (NAOs), administered capital and departmental capital via departmental injections and loans.

(a) Departmental and administered receipts from other sources (i.e. other than appropriation amounts) that are available to be used.

Note: Refer to Budgeted Income Statement for application of agency revenue.

2.2 2006-07 BUDGET MEASURES

Table 2.2 Agency measures

The ARC has no new Budget measures in the 2006-07 Budget therefore Table 2.2 is not presented.

2.3 OTHER RESOURCES AVAILABLE TO BE USED

Table 2.3 provides details of other resources obtained by the ARC for provision of goods or services. These resources are approved for use by the ARC but not included in Table 2.1 because resources received free of charge in Table 2.3 is on an accrual basis.

Table 2.3: Other resources available to be used

1. Resources received free of charge represent the costs incurred by the Australian National Audit Office in undertaking the annual audit of the ARC's Financial Statements.

2.4 MOVEMENT OF ADMINISTERED FUNDS FROM 2005-06 TO 2006-07

Table 2.4: Movement of administered funds from 2005-06 to 2006-07

The ARC did not apply for movement of administered funds from 2005-06 to 2006-07 therefore Table 2.4 is not presented. However, the ARC has rephased $10.066 million of indexation funding from 2005-06 to 2006-07 due to delays in legislative amendments to the special appropriation in the ARC Act.

1. The 2005-06 estimated expense from special appropriations is higher than appropriation revenue due to the timing of the recognition of grant expenses and liabilities under the ARC's accounting policies. The accounting policy for grant expense and liability can be found in note 3 under section 5.

2.7 ADMINISTERED CAPITAL AND DEPARTMENTAL EQUITY INJECTIONS AND LOANS

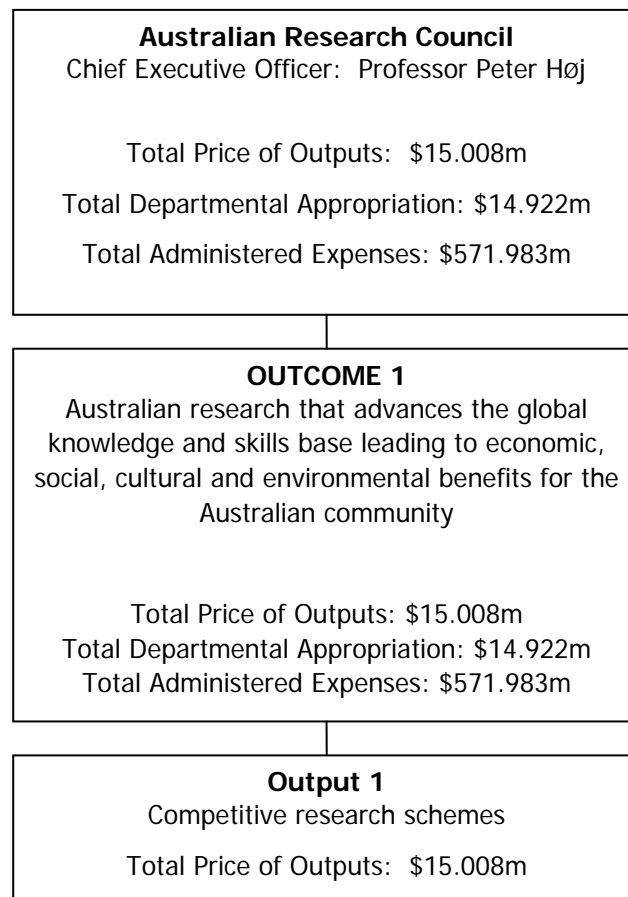

The ARC does not have administered capital and departmental equity injections and loans in 2006-07; therefore no information is provided.

Section 3: Outcomes

3.1 SUMMARY OF OUTCOMES AND CONTRIBUTION TO OUTCOMES

The ARC works to achieve one outcome specified by Government. Figure 1 below shows the relationship between the outcome and the contributing output of the ARC.

Output Cost Attribution

The ARC has one output group. All costs are attributed to this output.

Changes to Outcome and Output Groups

There have been no changes to the number, wording or structure of the ARC's outcome and output from the 2005-06 Portfolio Budget Statements.

3.2 OUTCOMES — DEPARTMENTAL AND ADMINISTERED

Trends in Resourcing

The increase of administered funding across the years is due to the additional funding for the NCGP provided through the Backing Australia's Ability initiative introduced in 2001-02, which saw the level of funding for NCGP double by 2005-06.

The decrease in departmental funding in 2003-04 is due to the whole-of-Government decision to abolish the former capital use charge arrangements. The increase in funding from 2005-06 is to support management of additional research funding from Government under the Backing Australia's Ability initiative.

3.3 OUTCOMES AND PERFORMANCE

Outcome 1: Australian research that advances the global knowledge and skills base leading to economic, social, cultural and environmental benefits for the Australian community.

Description

The Australian Government's investment in research and research training that is administered by the ARC supports the Government's commitment to three key elements of the process of innovation, as identified in the Government's Backing Australia's Ability statements – Backing Australia's Ability: An Innovation Action Plan for the Future (released in January 2001), and Backing Australia's Ability: Building our future through science and innovation (released in May 2004). The three elements are:

- strengthening Australia's ability to generate ideas and undertake research;
- accelerating the commercial application of these ideas; and
- developing and retaining Australian skills.

The Australian Government's investment in research supports the generation of new knowledge and skills that are necessary to sustain innovation and the development of new businesses and jobs on which Australia's prosperity and living standards depend. It contributes to maintaining and improving the quality of Australian life through advances in the social and cultural spheres and environmental sustainability.

The Australian Government's investment in research also encourages researchers to interact with businesses, industry and public sector and community organisations, facilitating the flow of people, knowledge and expertise, both locally and internationally.

The Australian Government's specific investment in research training supports the development of highly trained personnel who are necessary for Australia's research system to operate at a competitive level globally and for the ongoing renewal of that system.

Key objectives

The ARC pursues the following seven key objectives to deliver the ARC's outcome:

1. Discovery: Develop and maintain a broad foundation of high-quality world-class research across a wide range of disciplines;

2. Linkage: Encourage and extend cooperative approaches to research and improve utilisation of research outcomes by strengthening links within Australia's innovation system and with innovation systems internationally;
3. Research training and careers: Contribute to high-quality research training and foster career opportunities for Australia's best and brightest researchers;
4. Research infrastructure: Facilitate access for Australian researchers to state-of-the-art facilities and equipment and provide incentives for the cooperative development of research infrastructure;
5. Research priorities: Encourage excellent research and research training across the broad range of national research priorities and ARC's structural priorities;
6. Public engagement: Increase awareness, understanding and support among stakeholders and the community of the outcomes and benefits of Australian research; and
7. Effective organisation: Implement a governance and organisation structure, together with management processes, to enable the ARC to achieve its objectives within a framework of transparency and accountability.

Further information about these key objectives can be found in the ARC's Strategic Plan.

Competitive Research Schemes

The ARC's Administered Items consist of a number of competitive funding schemes for research and research training (principally in universities). Together, these schemes constitute the ARC's National Competitive Grants Program (NCGP).

The Discovery element of the NCGP provides Australia's best and most promising researchers with open and transparent access to funding support, and offers incentives for researchers to build the scale of their work, develop teams and support the growth of networks of research excellence. It supports the development of young researchers and the testing of new, innovative ideas and research techniques.

The Linkage element of the NCGP encourages collaborative research, both nationally and internationally, between universities, businesses, industry and Government and community organisations. It also funds investment in strategic national research infrastructure and access to major international research facilities.

The Centres and Networks elements of the NCGP support research requiring significant national and international collaboration. They encourage the growth of clusters and networks of research and research training as platforms for innovation.

Outcome 1 resourcing

Table 3.1 shows how the 2006-07 Budget appropriations translate to total resourcing for Outcome 1, including administered appropriations, revenue from government (appropriation), revenue from other sources, and the total price of outputs including resources received free of charge.

Measures affecting Outcome 1

The ARC has no new measures for Outcome 1 in the 2006-07 Budget.

Performance information for Outcome 1

Performance information for administered items, individual outputs and output groups relating to the ARC are summarised in Table 3.2.

Under the Australian Research Council Act 2001 (ARC Act), the ARC's strategic plan must include indicators for assessing the ARC's performance. The indicators identified in the ARC's Strategic Plan are outlined below. In accordance with the ARC Act, the ARC will report against these indicators in its annual report.

Effectiveness (Achievement of Outcome)

The ARC's effectiveness in achieving its outcome and mission will be demonstrated by evidence of:

- Australia's achieving high levels of research excellence and building world-class research capability in a range of research areas; and
- The benefits (economic, social, cultural and environmental) that are delivered to the community through the adoption of the outcomes of ARC-funded research.

Table 3.2: Performance information for Outcome 1

Key Performance Indicators
KPI.1	Research funded through the National Competitive Grants Program produces high-quality outputs and outcomes in public and private enterprises
KPI.2	Development, attraction and retention of high-quality researchers across disciplines, able to pursue careers within universities, industry, government and other sectors of the economy
KPI.3	A high incidence of collaboration between ARC-funded researchers and those within other sectors of the national and international innovation system including innovative companies
KPI.4	Increase in the scale of research activities supported through the National Competitive Grants Program
KPI.5	Contribution of ARC-funded research to the development of research strengths and applications in areas of national need
KPI.6	Appropriate level of access for Australian researchers (including those in higher education institutions, government research organisations and industry) to high-quality facilities and equipment (including major research facilities located overseas)

Key Performance Indicators
KPI.7	Transfer of knowledge to users as shown by trends in knowledge transfer, utilisation and intellectual property measures
KPI.8	Enhanced stakeholder awareness of and satisfaction with the outcomes of ARC-funded research
KPI.9	Stakeholder satisfaction with the flexibility and responsiveness of the National Competitive Grants Program and with ARC processes for administering grants and applications
KPI.10	Ministerial and Parliamentary satisfaction with the performance of the ARC against its accountability and governance requirements.

Evaluations for Outcome 1

The ARC's ongoing program of evaluation includes:

- the monitoring and reporting of performance against the performance indicators identified in the strategic plan;
- monitoring the progress and research outcomes of individual research projects based on reports provided by the researchers involved (to ensure research is high-quality and has maximum impact)
- monitoring and review of business assurance activities; and
- an annual cycle of staff performance planning and evaluation.

In addition, the individual schemes of the NCGP are periodically reviewed to gauge the extent to which they are meeting stakeholder needs.

Reporting of the ARC's performance against the performance indicators identified in the strategic plan also involves, as appropriate, specific-purpose studies aimed at measuring performance in various areas. The ARC is finalising a stakeholder satisfaction survey conducted in 2005-06 aimed at evaluating stakeholder satisfaction with aspects of the ARC's NCGP and community awareness of the ARC more broadly.

Section 4: Other reporting requirements

4.1 PURCHASER-PROVIDER ARRANGEMENTS

The ARC is not involved in any purchaser-provider arrangements where the outputs of one agency are purchased by another to contribute to the former's specified outcomes.

4.2 COST RECOVERY ARRANGEMENTS

The ARC does not have any cost recovery arrangements.

Section 5: Budgeted financial statements

ANALYSIS OF BUDGETED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Budgeted Departmental Statement of Financial Performance

The ARC is budgeting for a break-even operating result for 2006-07.

Total revenue in 2006-07 is estimated to be $15.008 million, representing an increase of $0.066 million from the 2005-06 estimated actual.

Budgeted Departmental Statement of Financial Position

The ARC's budgeted net asset position of $7.605 million is unchanged from the 2005-06 estimated actual.

The ARC's major assets in 2006-07 are: $1.679 million in land and buildings representing the fitout of new office accommodation in 2005-06; $3.220 million in intangibles reflecting the development of new grant management software; and $4.437 million in financial assets indicating the estimated appropriation receivable and cash balance.

The ARC's primary liability continues to be accrued employee entitlements which as a result of staff increases and accruing leave entitlements are estimated to increase in 2006-07 to $1.901 million.

Budgeted Departmental Statement of Cash Flows

The higher appropriations drawdown in 2005-06 and 2006-07 reflects the one-off additional cash requirements for the leasehold improvement and replacement grant management software capital projects.

Departmental Statement of Changes in Equity

The ARC's budgeted equity position of $7.605 million is unchanged from the 2005-06 estimated actual.

Departmental Capital Budget Statement

The estimates in this table represent the ARC's capital expenditure program in relation to new office accommodation requirements and replacement of software assets.

Departmental Non-Financial Assets – Summary of Movement

The purchases of non-financial assets reflect the capital expenditure program as mentioned above.

Schedule of Budgeted Revenues and Expenses Administered on behalf of Government

The ARC will manage $571.983 million in grant expenses on behalf of the Government, representing new and ongoing research funding agreements awarded under the National Competitive Grants Program. Administered expenses are different from appropriation revenue due to the timing of recognition of grant expenses and liabilities under the ARC's accounting policies.

Schedule of Budgeted Assets and Liabilities Administered on behalf of Government

Total administered assets are estimated to be $2.834 million in 2006-07, made up of $1.809 million in GST input tax credits to be claimed back from the Australian Taxation Office and $1.025 million in cash held in the ARC research endowment account for jointly funded projects with other research funding bodies.

Total liabilities are expected to increase by $1.681 million from the 2005-06 estimated actual to $239.482 million in 2006-07.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 1: Intangibles

The ARC's intangibles comprise purchased and internally developed software for internal use. These assets are carried at cost.

Note 2: Employee entitlements

The liability for employee entitlements includes provision for annual leave and long service leave.

Note 3: Grants

The ARC administers a number of grant schemes on behalf of the Government.

Grant liabilities are recognised to the extent that the grant eligibility criteria or reporting requirements have been satisfied. A commitment is recorded when the Government enters into an agreement to make these grants but services have not been performed or criteria satisfied.
