

'Your tomorrow' animation script

Tomorrow – sometimes it's here before today's even begun!

Go here, read this, write that, be better – that's better.

Tomorrow – it just happens and it's easy to forget that it's yours.

That's the good bit – when you get to choose.

You might want to get married one day.

In an arranged marriage, you get to say – yes or no.

But, what if you don't have a say in your tomorrow, if the decision's been made for you? If you've been told when you marry, where you marry, who you marry – that's forced marriage – and it's illegal.

If you're being forced to marry, support and advice is available to help you make it stop.

Seeking help gives you control again, so your tomorrow can still be your own, unless of course, you'd like to share it.
